Town of Midland welcomes the Ontario Provincial Police

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(MIDLAND, ON) At 6 p.m. today, Thursday, February 8, the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) officially becomes the policing service for the Town of Midland.

Even with the changeover of policing service, residents can expect to still see some familiar faces given that many members of the MPS officers/civilian employees will be making the transition to the OPP.

“We would like to sincerely thank the MPS for their dedication and service,” added Mayor McKay. “This transition was a bittersweet one, but the Town will embrace the future and looks forward to working with the Detachment Commander and members of the OPP. We are confident that these men and women will continue to meet the policing needs of our residents and businesses.”

Residents should note the following phone numbers:

For emergencies call:

9-1-1

For non-emergencies call:

705-526-6558 to reach the Southern Georgian Bay Detachment – Downtown Location
(250 Second Street, Midland)

705-526-3761 to reach the Southern Georgian Bay Detachment – Host Location
(Highway 12 & Beamish Road, Midland)

1-888-310-1122 to reach the OPP Communication Centre
